

TPIEF Coordinator Hours by Language

Native speakers of English, Chinese, and Vietnamese are available at TPIEF to provide foreign residents with advice and consultations and to connect you with other professionals if further help is needed. Our coordinators also add regular updates to our Facebook pages.

| | | |
|-------------|--|--|
| Head Office | English Mon & Wed 13:30-17:30, Fri 14:30-17:30 Chinese Mon & Tue 9:00-17:00 Vietnamese Mon-Wed & Fri 8:45-17:15 | |
| | Chinese Wed 9:00~17:00 | Vietnamese Mon & Fri 9:00~17:00 |
| | Chinese Thu 9:00~17:00 | Vietnamese Mon & Fri by appointment |

A native speaker of Mongolian is also available at our head office.

TPIEF English Card Game for Disaster Readiness

Have you ever heard of such a game? This TPIEF original features illustrated cards including simplified Japanese expressions. Considering the anxiety residents from overseas may have been feeling over the past few years in light of the increasing frequency of disasters such as quakes and typhoons, we're now proud to offer an English version of this exciting game based on the Japanese cards to help ease residents' minds by providing essential disaster readiness knowledge. The cards convey important points clearly and succinctly, making them easy to remember. Play the game and learn what to do in an emergency! Ask about it at your local TPIEF office.

TPIEF Eastern Tottori's Trash Separation Rules in Easy Japanese

Regional standards and protocols for separating refuse for collection can be a thorn in the side for anyone with a different cultural or linguistic background. TPIEF's guide to Eastern Tottori's trash separation rules in easy Japanese is designed to help foreign residents make sense of this frequent stumbling block. Illustrations make it easy to understand even for those with limited Japanese language skills. Correctly separating your trash helps build a better relationship with your neighbours and avoid difficulties.

Watch out for upcoming easy Japanese guides to the specific rules in Central and Western Tottori.

Download it here

